

Dr. Michelle Franklin is a Research Scientist specializing in small fruit entomology and Integrated Pest Management (IPM) at the Agassiz Research and Development Centre, Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada. Her program focuses on understanding the biology and ecology of insect pests of importance to small fruit crops and the development of reduced risk IPM strategies that include microbial controls and natural enemies.