

Renee Prasad has been involved in crop scouting and cranberry pest management research since 1996 through E.S. Cropconsult Ltd. She is also a faculty member with the University of the Fraser Valley in BC. She enjoys taking the UFV Agriculture students out to the Research Farm for data collection.